MERMAID - represents the dualism of Christ who is half man, half God.

LION or DOG - protection of master.

PEACOCK - eternal life.

PLANTS - ACANTHUS - heavenly garden; EAR OF CORN AND GRAPES - body and blood of Christ; IVY - immortality; WHEAT - death of an adult, usually an older person; PINE CONE - regeneration.

PYRAMID - Egyptian influence, recreation, rising sun.

OBELISK - Egyptian influence, setting sun.

OPEN BOOK - divine knowledge.

PITCHER - broken, death of an older person.

SCALES - equality and justice; weighing the souls of the departed by Archangel Michael.

SERPENT - with his tail in his mouth, an ancient symbol of eternity.

SHELL - man's journey through life; birth and resurrection.

SKULL - raised on a pillar, shows the triumph of death.

SUN - glorified souls; moon, planets, stars--various meanings, heaven as home of the stars and planets.

TREES - CUT TREE - death; CYPRESS - hope; DEAD TREE - end of the tree of life, number of limbs cut off could indicate the number of children left by the deceased; OAK - strength; WEEPING WILLOW - sorrow.

URNS - death of an adult.

VULTURE - Egyptian influence; protection and maternal care.

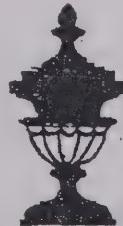

In New England during the 1700s and early 1800s, the Puritans had a very serious, gloomy view of death that was evident in epitaphs like this one :

As you are now,
So once was I:
As I am now,
So shall you be.
So prepare for death
and follow me.

By the mid-1800s into the early 1900s, Victorians sentimentalized death using epitaphs like "Gone but not forgotten," and poetry like:

Death like an overflowing Stream,
Sweeps us away, our life is a dream,
An empty tale, a moving Flower,
Cut down and withered in an hour.

CEMETERY SYMBOLS

One way to learn about the past is through information found in cemeteries. Besides names, birth and death dates and other personal information, cemetery symbols used by stonemasons and monument companies from the 1700s forward included traditional religious symbols as well as symbols borrowed from art and literature, like the popular Victorian book The Language of Flowers. Today, gravestones often have symbols of the deceased's personal interests or hobbies.

ANCHOR - identified with Saint Nicholas, patron saint of seamen, and a Christian symbol for hope and steadfastness.

ANGELS - angels of heaven, trumpeting they accompany the soul heavenward announcing arrival.

ARROWS - fatal arrows sent by God.

BATS - bats of the underworld.

BELLS - tolling for the dead.

BIRD - from earliest times a symbol of the soul; child's death.

BROKEN COLUMNS - death.

CANDLES - being snuffed out by death's imps.

CHERUBIM - guardians of a sacred place, servants of God; divine wisdom or justice.

COCKS - fall from grace and resurrection.

COFFIN - coffins, skulls, pickaxe and spade--tools and other objects associated with burial, reminders of our ultimate end.

CROWN - glory and righteousness.

COBRA - death (an Egyptian influence).

DEATH'S HEAD - with soul effigy over mouth (early New England motif).

EYE - divine wisdom.

FATHER TIME - old man with a beard.

FLOWERS - impermanence: CALLA LILLY - majestic beauty;

DAISY - youth; MORNING GLORY - resurrection; LILY - purity, chastity, flower of Virgin Mary; PANSY - humility;

ROSE/ROSETTE - love; SHAMROCK - Holy Trinity or Ireland;

THISTLE - the fall of man.

FRUIT - fertility and abundance; GRAPES - fertility and sacrifice.

GATES - passageway to heaven; also architectural motifs like portals and arches are symbols of the house of the dead, death as a passageway to the unknown, a shrine or temple, a portal through which the soul passes into immortality.

GOURD - deliverance from grief.

HANDS - clasped, showing love and eternity; finger pointing heavenward also.

HEART - the soul triumphant over death, symbol of the Trinity; often with wings or being flown to heaven by cupid figures.

HOURGLASS - sand of time run out; top may have wings or skeleton.

LAMB - symbol of Christ; the death of a child.

LAUREL - reward, glory.

SALEM REFORMED CEMETERY

DUTCH RIDGE

This cemetery located in Section 12, on the east side of the Old Auburn Road at the T intersection with Chapman Road, is the second burial site for the Salem Reformed Congregation. The first site was at the southwest corner of Chapman Road, where the brick church now is located. Burials are said to be near or under one corner of the church. The first church was located where the cemetery is now. There are no markers at the first location.

On the day that ACGSI read the cemetery, it was obvious that maintenance work was being done. It is still in use today.

HUNTERTOWN CEMETERY

Thursday, March 18, 1937

Many of the pioneer residents of Perry Township, Allen County, are buried in the Perry Township Cemetery at Huntertown which is more than a century old. Included among those interred in the pioneer burial grounds are Mary Jane Wood Beardsley, the first white child born in the township, and William T. Hunter, for whom Huntertown was named.

Sidney M. Dunten, of Fort Wayne "ural Route 1, secretary of the cemetery association, prepared the following history of the cemetery:

In 1833 Thomas and Horace F. Dunten selected the site. Being compelled by the death of an infant daughter of Amos Wood, they cast about for a suitable location where the soil was sandy and had good drainage. They chose a three-acre plot in the northwest quarter of Section 16. After this first burial it was used by the pioneers as a permanent burial ground. However, it was not until August 9, 1853, that the land was purchased from Jacob Bair, of Holmes County, Ohio for $50. This deed was made to Samuel Rhoades, Joseph Hillegass, Theron M. Andrews, Benjamin Parker and Elbridge G. Wheelock. The original deed now is held by Sidney Dunten.

In this yard, cut in stone, one can find the names of the first pioneers of the vicinity including Benjamin Parker; Nathaniel Fitch, the first blacksmith; Ephriam Dunten, who opened the first store; Albert Wood; Mary Jane Wood Beardsley, the first white child born in the township; Ralph Andrews, the first unofficial meteorologist of Allen County; Dr. Elbridge G. Wheelock, first community physician; William T. Hunter, after whom Huntertown was named; James Vandolah, who built the first successful grist mill; George Simon and many more.

It was not until 1854 that an association was formed on February 13 of that year pursuant to call, a meeting was held at the home of E. H. Dunten and officers were elected as follows: President, E. H. Dunten; secretary, H. L. Bennett; treasurer, T. M. Andrews; trustees, Benjamin Parker, Samuel Rhoades and Nathaniel Fitch.

The next annual meeting was not called until April 7, 1860, when the following officers were elected: President, Jacob Hillegass; secretary, Joseph Hunter; treasurer, E. G. Wheelock; trustees, Mathias Saylor, Jacob Kell and William Hunter.

On May 26, 1860, the board decided that the grounds should be laid off into lots with a stake at each corner. Previously to June 14, 1861, a contract was entered into with John (Jonny) Tucker for grubbing and clearing the grounds for $8. He did his work so well they allowed him $8.25. Also an agreement was made with William McArthur for surveying and platting, for $6. which was ordered paid.

In March 1864, Danford Parker was ordered to procure suitable stone to mark the section corners. These stones are still in place. In June, 1882, the association purchased from Mathias Saylor, surviving member of the Cedar Creek Presbyterian Church, one-half acre of ground directly across the road for $1. The land had been used for church purposes. This church was destroyed by fire buy by May 15, 1883, a sufficient sum had been subscribed to warrant building a new church. In January 1884 the church was ready for occupancy, Mrs. Sarah E. Fitch donated the organ and church bell.

In February 1914, a need was felt that more ground should be purchased. By 1916 a tract containing 20 acres was procured providing burial space for the future.

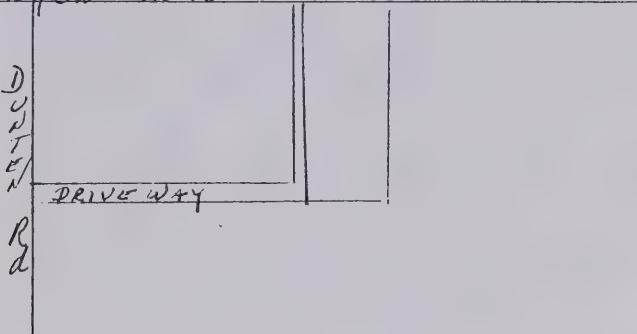

Apparently this inscription book is titled

OLD HUNTERTOWN CEMETERY
a TUCKER

Located on the Cedar Canyon Road at the Dunton Road, in Section 16.
This cemetery is .7 mile east of State Road 3. There is a cemetery record for a portion of the old cemetery, and records have been partially reconstructed for the very old unrecorded section.

HUNTERTOWN CEMETERY LOT RECORD

OLD CEMETERY

These following persons own/owned lots in the Old Huntertown Cemetery. The dates of purchase where available, are included. Please remember that some lots have had several owners. The original owner who purchased an 8 or 10 space lot, having used 3 or 4 spaces, sold the remaining spaces to the Association who in turn resold the spaces.

The first burial in the old cemetery was in 1833 near the Dunten Road-Cedar Canyon Road area. In 1916 the New Cemetery was opened, and both cemeteries were incorporated together on May 9, 1957.

Allen County Genealogical Society of Indiana

P.O. Box 12003
Fort Wayne, Indiana 46862

MERMAID - represents the dualism of Christ who is half man, half God.

LION or DOG - protection of master.

PEACOCK - eternal life.

PLANTS - ACANTHUS - heavenly garden; EAR OF CORN AND GRAPES - body and blood of Christ; IVY - immortality; WHEAT - death of an adult, usually an older person; PINE CONE - regeneration.

PYRAMID - Egyptian influence, recreation, rising sun.

OBELISK - Egyptian influence, setting sun.

OPEN BOOK - divine knowledge.

PITCHER - broken, death of an older person.

SCALES - equality and justice; weighing the souls of the departed by Archangel Michael.

SERPENT - with his tail in his mouth, an ancient symbol of eternity.

SHELL - man's journey through life; birth and resurrection.

SKULL - raised on a pillar, shows the triumph of death.

SUN - glorified souls; moon, planets, stars--various meanings, heaven as home of the stars and planets.

TREES - CUT TREE - death; CYPRESS - hope; DEAD TREE - end of the tree of life, number of limbs cut off could indicate the number of children left by the deceased; OAK - strength; WEEPING WILLOW - sorrow.

URNS - death of an adult.

VULTURE - Egyptian influence; protection and maternal care.

In New England during the 1700s and early 1800s, the Puritans had a very serious, gloomy view of death that was evident in epitaphs like this one :

As you are now,
So once was I:
As I am now,
So shall you be.
So prepare for death
and follow me.

By the mid-1800s into the early 1900s, Victorians sentimentalized death using epitaphs like "Gone but not forgotten," and poetry like:

Death like an overflowing Stream,
Sweeps us away, our life is a dream,
An empty tale, a moving Flower,
Cut down and withered in an hour.

CEMETERY SYMBOLS

One way to learn about the past is through information found in cemeteries. Besides names, birth and death dates and other personal information, cemetery symbols used by stonecarvers and monument companies from the 1700s forward included traditional religious symbols as well as symbols borrowed from art and literature, like the popular Victorian book The Language of Flowers. Today, gravestones often have symbols of the deceased's personal interests or hobbies.

ANCHOR - identified with Saint Nicholas, patron saint of seamen, and a Christian symbol for hope and steadfastness.

ANGELS - angels of heaven, trumpeting they accompany the soul heavenward announcing arrival.

ARROWS - fatal arrows sent by God.

BATS - bats of the underworld.

BELLS - tolling for the dead.

BIRD - from earliest times a symbol of the soul; child's death.

BROKEN COLUMNS - death.

CANDLES - being snuffed out by death's imps.

CHERUBIM - guardians of a sacred place, servants of God; divine wisdom or justice.

COCKS - fall from grace and resurrection.

COFFIN - coffins, skulls, pickaxe and spade--tools and other objects associated with burial, reminders of our ultimate end.

CROWN - glory and righteousness.

COBRA - death (an Egyptian influence).

DEATH'S HEAD - with soul effigy over mouth (early New England motif).

EYE - divine wisdom.

FATHER TIME - old man with a beard.

FLOWERS - impermanence: CALLA LILLY - majestic beauty;

DAISY - youth; MORNING GLORY - resurrection; LILY - purity, chastity, flower of Virgin Mary; PANSY - humility;

ROSE/ROSETTE - love; SHAMROCK - Holy Trinity or Ireland;

THISTLE - the fall of man.

FRUIT - fertility and abundance; GRAPES - fertility and sacrifice.

GATES - passageway to heaven; also architectural motifs like portals and arches are symbols of the house of the dead, death as a passageway to the unknown, a shrine or temple, a portal through which the soul passes into immortality.

GOURD - deliverance from grief.

HANDS - clasped, showing love and eternity; finger pointing heavenward also.

HEART - the soul triumphant over death, symbol of the Trinity; often with wings or being flown to heaven by cupid figures.

OURGLASS - sand of time run out; top may have wings or skeleton.

LAMB - symbol of Christ; the death of a child.

LAUREL - reward, glory.

ADAMS TOWNSHIP
T.30N R.13E

Organized January 1826, reduced to present size May 1830. The first death was that of a daughter of Jesse Adams. She died in 1825, and was buried on her father's farm. (Helm, 1880).

ADAMS FAMILY CEMETERY, Section 2/3

In August, 1981, at an excavation site on the Parrott Road, about two miles west of New Haven, workers excavating sand to fill ditches for a sewer project, found a graveyard that had not been used for more than 100 years. The Adams Township Trustee said he had no records on a graveyard there. He stated that early Allen County history books referred to the graveyard as the ADAMS CEMETERY. It was in a deed dated Oct 1, 1852, as "a tract of land now used as a Burying Ground, twelve rods long, east and west, and six rods wide, north and south". Records indicate the first burial occurred in 1825, the daughter of Squire Jesse Adams on the Adams farm. The second burial occurred three years later and others followed, "the names of whom are not recorded and are unknown". The cemetery was part of the Adams farm and was used by him and other area residents. In 1875, some of the graves were exhumed and re-entombed in the IOOF Cemetery on the Hartzell Road, when it was re-established. Evidently, not all the graves were moved...but the exact number and names were not recorded. There is no way to know how many graves remained. The Adams Cemetery has had no burials for more than 100 years, and it has not been maintained; there are no gravestones or other outward signs of burials. Since the cemetery is located on a sandy tract, near the Maumee River, without access to any public road, and being used for excavation of sand and gravel, it is impossible for the Trustee to maintain it at its present site. Lynn H. Shaw, Adams Township Trustee, petitioned the Allen County Superior Court for permission to remove the remaining graves and re-bury them in the I. O. O. F. Cemetery at New Haven in a common grave. The common grave will be marked with a single monument, dedicated to "The early settlers of Adams Township". (Allen County Lines, December 1981.

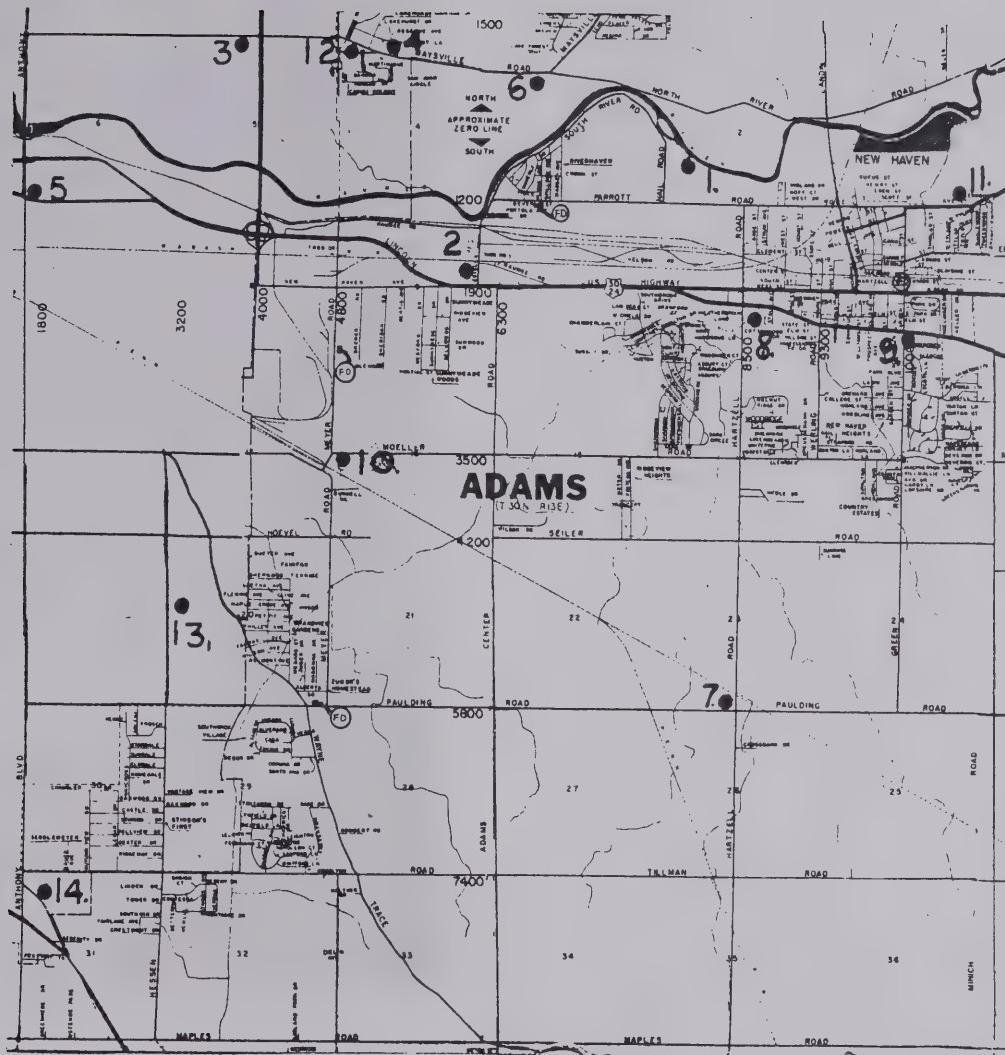

ADAMS TOWNSHIP CEMETERY, Section 9

Located near the railroad Tracks, west of Estella Avenue, south of Old Maumee Road. Burial date 10 September 1861. Abandoned.

CATHOLIC CEMETERY, Section 5

Located at 3500 Lake Avenue. Years ago, the original Catholic Cemetery was on Cathedral Square. There arose a need for a larger and newer cemetery. The next cemetery was located on Swinney Avenue. Because of industry beginning to surround the area, and there was no room for expansion, after only 29 years, the need again arose for another new and larger location. In 1872, Bishop Joseph Dwenger purchased a 120 acre beautifully wooded tract, one mile outside the city limits of Fort Wayne..This tract is on the Maysville Road, and is the present Catholic Cemetery. Since that time, additional ground has been purchased, as it became available, until today the total is 172 acres. The bodies had been removed from the other two cemeteries into the present location. The cemetery was then opened up for interments in 1873. (Bloomfield, 1975).

HUNTERTOWN – Unless you've driven by the Perry Township Cemetery you might never know it exists.

There is no advertising budget for the cemetery at Cedar Canyons and Dunton Roads – it's not even listed in the phone book.

It's not operated by a large corporation but run by a board of seven volunteers, all of whom have a loved one buried there.

The majority of the people who purchase a lot there chose the cemetery – also known as the Huntertown Cemetery – because they have family members or friends buried there.

Now the Perry Township Cemetery Association

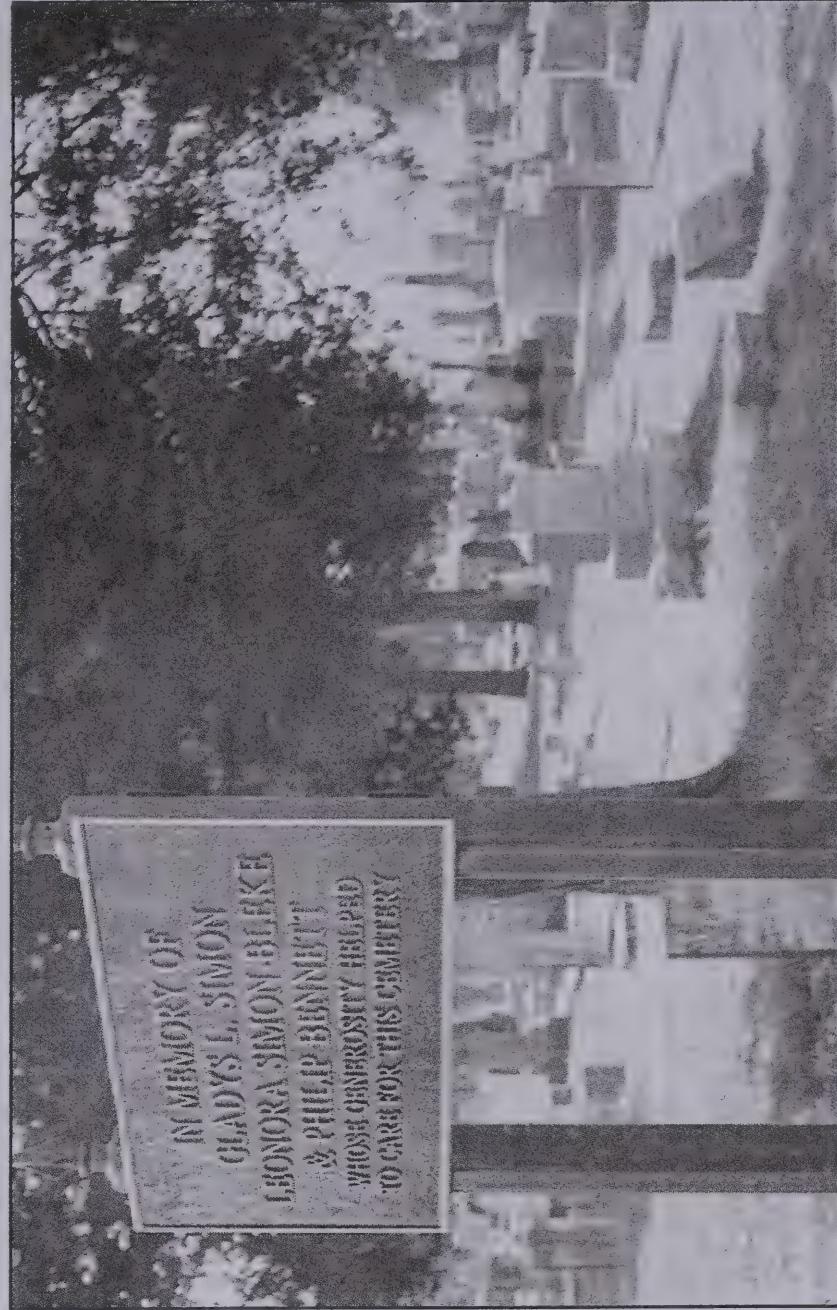

Board wants to spread the word to others about the cemetery, where approximately 3,850 people are interred.

"We have a service to offer the community at a competitive price," said Morris Bracht, the chairman of the board.

Lots range from $400 for a single gravesite to $1,200 for a choice lot for four. For every gravesite sold, $25 of the purchase price is deposited into an endowment fund. The interest from that fund is used to pay for the upkeep of the cemetery.

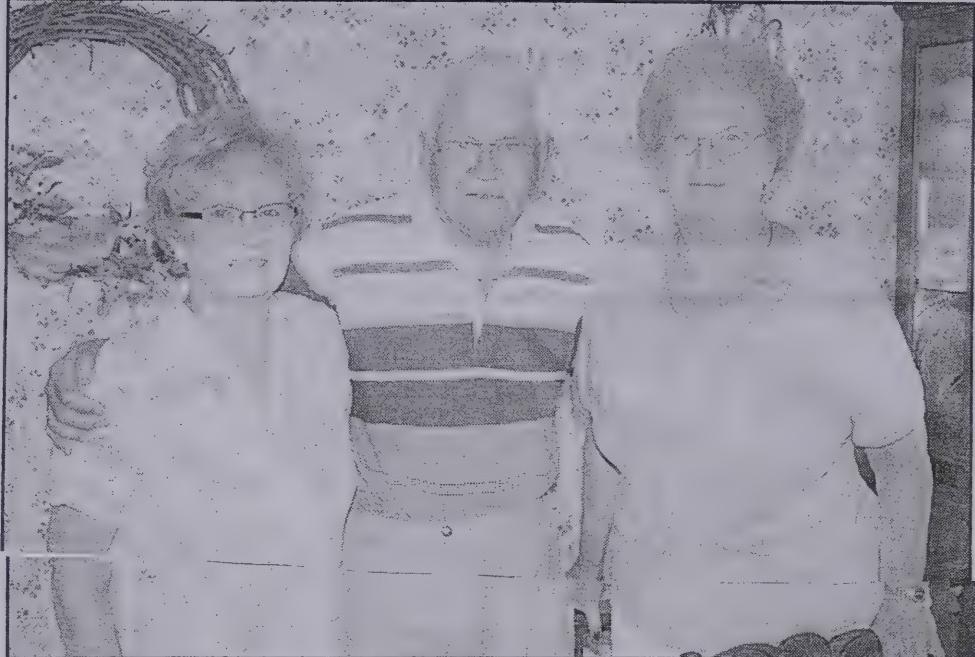

The lots at the Perry Township Cemetery are a savings of hundreds of dollars over some of the lots in Fort Wayne cemeteries.

Pictured is Perry Township Cemetery's original section, located in the southeast corner of the intersection of Cedar Canyons and Dunton Roads. It dates back to 1833. A donation by Leonora Simon-Bleke and Philip Bennett was used to replace the wrought iron fence that surrounds the original part and to replace monument foundations and clean the faces of some of the stones.

Perry Township Cemetery Association Board members include Pauline Troyer, treasurer, Morris Bracht, chairman, and Betty Lavacheck, secretary.

Perry Township Cemetery

Bracht and other board members recommend people purchase their own lots ahead of time so they can compare prices and make the decisions themselves rather than leaving the responsibility to others.

"It makes so much sense to purchase a cemetery lot before you actually need it," he said.

Unlike some other cemeteries, there are no restrictions on the monuments. The cemetery does not offer mausoleums.

Another selling point for the cemetery is that its 13.6 acres has sandy soil, which Bracht said offers excellent drainage.

The Huntertown resident has a long history with the cemetery. He has chaired the board since 1973 and for 20 years before that he was the cemetery's caretaker.

Those responsibilities are now handled by Bill Hand, who took over for Bracht. His responsibilities include opening and closing graves, mowing the lawn, trimming trees and repairing the roads that run through the cemetery.

Board members take pride in its well-kept condition.

"We are very blessed to have a caretaker who treats the cemetery just like he would his own lawn," Bracht said.

The original section of the cemetery is surrounded by a wrought iron fence and located on the south side of Cedar Canyons. The oldest grave there belongs to a baby who died in 1833.

The cemetery has received some donations, including a large one by Leonora Simon-Bleke and Philip Bennett, who are both buried there. The gift funded the fence, some new gravestone foundations and the cleaning of some of the monument faces.

Once surrounded by corn fields, the cemetery is now enclosed by housing developments.

Over the years, the cemetery board has acquired adjacent parcels that should give the cemetery the space to serve the community for at least the next 40 years, Bracht said.

Each spring the board holds its annual public meeting, at which officers are elected and the cemetery's financial information is presented.

The other board members are: Betty Lavacheck, secretary, Pauline Troyer, treasurer, Pauline Milleman, Charles Logar, Donald Garman Jr. and Roger Miller.

For more information on available lots at the Perry Township Cemetery, call Bracht at 637-3415 or Lavacheck at 637-6274.
